Seibert Tells Why He Bolts Democracy.

Democratic Chairman of Potter County Says the Only Trust Ignored at St. Louis was Trust in God.

The only trust, I believe, forgotten or ignored by the national convention was the trust in God," is the declaration of L. B. Seibert, leader of the Potter county Democratic bolters.

Seibert who has resigned the chairmanship of the Democratic county committee, and his followers in the revolt feel no more kindly disposed to the Parker-Davis ticket than they did the day it was nominated. They say they are not to be wheeled about by the convention's repudiation of Bryanism, and they charge the nomination of Parker directly to the influence of Wall street and the trusts.

CAN'T TRAVEL ON TWO ROADS.

The ex-county chairman has put forth what might be called a proclamation, in the course of which he says:

To me, it is no consequence what others may do. My conscience is my own; my duty is plain. In my judgement the two contending forces within the Democratic party have come to the parting of the ways. Along both of these pathways I am unable to travel with any degree of safety, success or self-respect. Neither shall I undertake it. To others of a more acrobatic turn of mind this might be possible, and, indeed, may meet with a certain degree of transitory success.

The heritage of Jackson, no longer the Mecca of Democratic hosts, is to be displaced by a memorial to Shylock, erected at the gateway of the Temple of Democracy, over which, indeed, well be incribed: "He who enters here leaves hope behind."

From Buzzard's Bay to Woolfert's Roost; from Wall to Lombard street, is sounded, echoed and re-echoed this slogan of the present campaign: "Another Cleveland; another administration like that of from 1892 to 1896; more soup houses; more bond issues; more forced idleness—less honest toil; more money in the public jackpot—less bread for the hungry millions; more Coxey's armies—less public improvement; more keep off the grass—less comfort for God's poor; more smokeless smokestacks; more tramps; more troops for Chicago rioters—less liberty for the American workman, more government by injuntion—less jury trials; more banks—less money for the people; more business stagnation—less enterprise; more Sheriff's sales; more poor houses."

APPALLED BY PARTY'S COURSE

From a repetition of this awful condition of things. I turn, as I would from the wrath of God. It does not interest me; it appals. It does not satisfy; it angers me.

The men in the Democratic saddle are good riders, but bad reinsmen. They would ride the Democratic horse off Belmont's track.

Such conduct, such conditions, such leadership are said to be by the action of the St. Louis convention, "safe, sane and conservative." The St. Louis convention was absolutely controlled and influenced by interests hostile to every tenet of Democracy. They, who deserted the party in 1896 and 1900, were made masters of the situation.

Every unlawful and criminal trust was legally, actually and properly represented in that body. Their paid hirelings and hoodlums hooted and jeered Mr. Bryan and other distinguished Democrats simply because they attempted to save the Democrattic party from utter rout and pending annibilation.

The only trust, I believe, forgotten or ignored by that convention was the trust in God, as evidenced by the hooting and shouting during the prayer of the chaplain.

Those, whose intrigue was indirectly the cause of the assassin's blow that killed Governor Goebel, of Kentucky, were the loudest advocates of the "safe, sane and conservative Democracy." They who cheered Hobson, that "Jack Ashore," when he eulogized Grover Cleveland for sending United States troops to Chicago to shoot down strikers, are not Democrats; at least, not my kind of Democrats.

TRUSTS' HAND IN IT ALL.

It was but natural that a convention controlled by such influences, made drunken by contributions from the Louisville, the Standard Oil, the Sugar Trust and kindred interests, could not give birth to a legitimate standard-bearer of true Democracy; but in keeping with the natural order of things a candidate with the cunning of a clam was brought into political existence by Senator Hill.

The Sheehans, Belmonts and McCarrens immediately became his trusted friends and adviserers. His name was presented to the convention and he was nominated.

Though suffering with political luckjaw, this "human interrogation joint" found time to speak. After the mischief had been done, he informed Mr. Sheehan of that which Mr. Sheehan well knew before the nomination, that he, Parker, would repudiate the conditions, upon which the nomination had been effected.

In conclusion, permit me to add that the "safe, sane and conservative" have separated themselves socially, politically and, thank God, morally from the unsafe, unsound and non-conservative following of Mr. Bryan. Lunatic regularity, it would seem, must be both unsatisfactory, and undesirable to the "safe and sane."

For these and many other reasons, which I hope to make entirely plain to you before November next. I cannot and will not vote for Alton B. Parker, agreeing with many of my associates that the initials of his name stand for A Bad Proposition.

Fred Miller Demised.

Fred Miller, an aged resident of this city, died Saturday morning after a brief illness. He had worked on Friday and was considered to be in his usual health. Heart disease was the cause. He was fifty years of age and had been a laborer in the Port Allegany tannery for upwards of twenty years. A wife and three children, Nellie, Katie and Albert Miller, mourn his demise. He was an honest, good citizen and his demise is generally deplored. He was a member of the Maccabees of the city and carried a policy for two thousand dollars. The funeral was held Monday, Rev. Reed officiating and the interment made in Fairview cemetery.—Port Allegany Reported.

For Sale.

A pair of horses weight about 2600; nine years old and sound in every particular.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

JORDAN.

WILLIAM ORLOW JORDAN died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Jordan, West Sixth street, Sunday evening about 10:30 o'clock from tuburculosis of the throat. He was but in the twenty-sixth year of his age and the general community not being aware of the serious nature of his illness, heard the announcement of his death with mingled feelings of surprise and sorrow. His illness began three years ago, in Coudersport, where he held a responsible position with a leading mercantile firm and where his too close application to work superinduced the attack that baffled the best efforts of his physicians. He was subsequently employed in Chicago and spent the last winter in Pensacola, Florida, in the hope of regaining his health but without avail. A letter received from his employer in Florida bears testimony to the patience and perseverance of his habits of industry and the pureness of his life. He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Emporium and during his residence here was regular in his Sunday School attendance and active in promoting the interests of the Epworth League Chapter, to which he was closely attached. Mr. Jodan was a young man of many sterling qualities and was highly esteemed by everybody. He was modest and retiring in his disposition. Realizing his probable nearness to death he displayed no feelings of dread but was kept tranquil by the repose of his trust in God.

He was a member of the class of '95 of the Emporium High School. He was also a member of Eulalia Lodge, No. 342, F. & A. M., Coudersport, Pa., and a member of the Scottish Rites Masons of the same place.

Surviving him are a father and mother, two brothers Joseph and Harry and a sister Rena.

The floral display was beautiful and consisted of many expensive pieces, especially the Masonic offering.

His funeral was held from the home of his parents, Wednesday afternoon, and was in charge of his pastor the Rev. O. S. Metzler. The choir of the First Methodist Episcopal Church rendered appropriate music. Members of the local Masonic Lodge attended in a body and performed their ritual at the grave.

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS HERE.

Harry Jordan, (brother), Chicago; B. J. Collins and wife, (uncle and aunt) Chas. F. Collins, (cousin) Miss Edna Coilins, (cousin) Mrs. William Driver, (cousin) Huntley; Geo. Strawbridge and wife, (cousins) Sterling Run; Miss Audrey Kreider, (cousin) Driftwood.

GALLAGHER.

After an illness of over three years, MRS. NAN. S. GALLAGHER, wife of Mr. Thos. Gallagher, Pennsylvania freight and ticket agent at Emporium, passed away last Saturday evening at 10:20 o'clock. During her long illness she made a gallant fight to live and every means secured to check the malady, anaemia, but death had claimed her and she resignedly awaited the final summons, peacefully sleeping away, surrounded by her loved ones.

Mrs. Gallagher, who was born at Grant, Herkimer county, N. Y., Dec. 25, 1850, came to Emporium in the early spring of 1875 and resided with her brother, Dr. W. H DeLong and wife until Nov. 15th, 1883, when she was united in marriage to Mr. Gallagher. Deceased leaves a husband, a niece, (Miss Mazie Gallagher, who has resided with the family since infancy), three sisters, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Popple, Grant, N. Y., and Mrs. Smith, Utica, N. Y., and two brothers, Dr. W. H. DeLong, of Emporia, Fla., (now here during the summer) and George, of Indiana.

During all these years Mrs. Gallagher has been active in social and christian work, a leader in society and one always willing to lead, no matter how exacting the duties were. Her home, one of the most pleasant in town, was always open to her friends, and they were legion. Her unselfish hospitality, so well know to our citizens, needs no flattery at our hands. We have all been her debtor for years. The writer well remembers, twenty-one years ago when she and her honored husband assisted us as bride's maid and best man and deeply regret the bonds of friendship then formed have, in part, been broken. We in common with many of the girls and boys of those days can look back with pleasure to the hundreds of joyous, happy times, in all of which figured Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher. The life of this excellent lady furnishes material for a lengthy obituary, but since securing the Rector's remarks, so eloquently delivered, we will close with the full realization that the memory of deceased will long live in the hearts of her Emporium friends.

THE FUNERAL.

Last Tuesday afternoon, at two o'clock, the funeral services were conducted at the family residence, Rev. J. M. Robertson, Rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church officiating. The singing was furnished by the church choir and the vestrymen served as pall bearers. The services were largely attended by our citizens. Rev. Robertson's remarks being so appropriate we take pleasure in publishing the same.

REV. J. M. ROBERTSON'S REMARKS.

We are assembled to-day to pay the last debt of sacred respect and affection to the earthly remains of one who for many years has held a large and warm place in our hearts; whose influence upon us all has been strong and pronounced, and by whose life the world has been the better.

In every sphere and relationship of life she has played a good part. In the home circle she was a model of wifely devotion and of every domestic virtue. Possessed of the winsome qualities which make and retain friendships, she was ever a center and leader among her wide circle of friends. A figure and force in the community, she was particularly an active worker and a prime leader in the life and affairs of Emmanuel Parish. For twenty-seven years she was a communicant of this Parish, and in all that time her heart was full of its interests. Only when the failure of her physical strength absolutely compelled it did she reluctantly lay down her active part in its affairs. It would be impossible and out of place at this time to attempt to rehearse in detail all that she has done in the life of our Parish during a period covering more than a quarter of a century. At some future time this story ought to be told at length. Enough at present to say that the place which she occupied in Emmanuel Parish has been a large place, and the void which her departure creates will not be soon or easily filled.

There are different types of saints in God's Church and Kingdom There are those who like Mary of Bethany choose the quiet life of spiritual meditation and converse; and there are those who like her sister Martha are energetic and influential in outward activities Each type has its place, its use and its reward. It was pre-eminently as a leader in outward activities that Mrs. Gallagher served well and faithful her Church and Parish. Her work and influence will not perish, nor be soon forgotten; and we give thanks to God for the example of her faithful, loving, loyal service.

In her long illness she was very patient and cheerful and brave. She had long recognized the possibility of a fatal termination of her illness and was resigned and prepared for what might be in store; but she made it a matter of purpose and effort to maintain an attitude of hope and cheerfulness. At all times she was very considerate of others, and maintained to the last her kindly interest in the affairs and well-being of others.

A lovable and winsome personality, she was brave and strong in spirit, determined, persistent, masterful to the last. Her physical strength has failed, but it is impossible for us to think of her lovable and good and brave and stedfast spirit failing. We can only believe, in the spirit of the Apostle's teaching, that death to her is but a change, a transition, a release from the narrow confines and fetters of this earthly life into the largeness and freedom of the heavenly life.

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS.

The following relatives and friends of the family were in attendance at the funeral, from out of town: Mr. Roger Gallagher, Buffalo; Mrs. J. B. Revilla, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, Pittsburg; the first three being brothers and sister of Mr. Gallagher. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rich, very dear friends, Randolph, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Swain, Keating Summit; Mrs. E. C. Davison, Miss Mary Davison, Johnsonburg.

FLORAL OFFERINGS.

The floral offerings from Emmanuel Sewing Society, Emmanuel Vestry, social society and intimate friends were especially beautiful. There was a great abundance of cut flowers and ferns, speaking volumes of the high regard in which the deceased was held.

Interment was made in Newton Cemetery.

Thus closed the earthly career of another valued Emporium resident, one whose place will be difficult to fill.

Disgraceful Exhibition.

A disgraceful fight took place on Fourth street last Monday evening between R. P. Bingeman and Major Dorvall. During the fight Bingeman pushed or knocked Dorvall through one of L. Taggart's large plate glass windows. Policeman Mundy, aided by a number of our citizens parted the contestants and placed them under arrest. A riot almost resulted, the howling mob attempted to secure Mr. Bingeman, but Mundy stood his ground and protected his prisoner. We understand they gave bail for their appearance at court and paid the costs, the window alone costing $75.00.

DEATH STRIKES DOWN FORMER STATE RULER.

Ex-Governor Pattison Dies of Pneumonia Complicated With Heart Failure.

Robert E. Pattison, who was twice Democratic Governor of Pennsylvania, and twice Controller of Philadelphia, died early on Monday at his home in Overbrook. Pneumonia, complicated with a weakness of the heart, was the cause of death.

Mr. Pattison was a candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket against Governor Pennypacker in 1902, and had not been a well man since his laborious campaign in that year, when his tour of seven weeks covered nearly every county in the State.

He was a member of the committee on resolutions of the recent Democratic convention and his health failed under the strain. He remained in St. Louis a few days after the convention to rest and, returning home, resumed his business, dividing his time between Philadelphia and New York.

Last Friday pneumonia developed and heart complications aggravated Mr. Pattison's illness.

Consistency Thou Art a Jewel.

Democratic Boss Hockley, editor of the Independent, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, has broken loose again in an uncalled for personal attack on the editor of the PRESS. All one has to do to stir up this spider, is to impugn his political motives and up he jumps like a Filippino, looking for blood. "Editorial etiquette" requires one to handle public questions in a manly manner and if the editor of the Independent, thus early in the campaign, commences his usual low-down billingsgate he will exhaust his venom before the heated season passes. We have in the past ignored his personal attacks upon us, deeming them beneath our notice, and shall consider, as the public does, the unreliable source from whence it is vomited.

Eye Specialist.

Prof. W. H. Budine, the well known Eye Specialist, of Binghamton, N. Y., will be at R. H. Hirsch's jewelry store, Emporium, Pa, August 12th and 13th. If you can't see well or have headache don't fail to call and see Prof. Budine, as he guarantees to cure all such cases. Lenses ground and fitted in old frames. Eyes tested and examined free. All work guaranteed.

Popular Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rich, of Randolph, N. Y., arrived in Emporium on Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Thos. Gallagher, an intimate friend for many years. While remaining in Emporium for a few days our citizens were pleased to greet them, they always maintaining a warm place in the hearts of Emporiumites when residing here.

They are delighted with the improved appearance of Emporium and the excellent service given them at the New Warner, including their elegant furnished rooms, and may extend their visit for several weeks.

Absconded.

Jas. Walker, Jr., secretary of Wharton (Potter county) school board absconded last week, taking with him the wife of John Devall and his own daughter. Since his disappearance it has been discovered that he forged endorsement to drafts due the school districts and that they also went with him.

World's Fair Excursions.

Low-rate ten-day coach excursions via Pennsylvania Railroad, August 3, 10, 17, 24, and 31. Rate $15.95 from Emporium. Train leaves Emporium at 8:10 a. m., connecting with special train from New York arriving St. Louis 4:15 p. m., next day. 3230-23-5t

Mid-Summer Musical.

A mid-summer Musical, to which much artistic importance attaches will be held in the Auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal Church Thursday evening, August the 25th under the auspices of the board of trustees. A list of the talent to be featured will appear later.

A Small Blaze.

Last Sunday morning, about 10:30, one of the tenement houses in "Bosworth" row, Chestnut street, caught fire on the roof, but was soon extinguished by the Mountaineer Hose Co.

It is still popular to trade with N. Seger. He carries a popular line.

Political Announcement.

Editor Press:—

Please announce my name as a candidate for County Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention.

HENRY LUDLAM.

Emporium, Pa., April 26th, 1904.

BRIEF MENTION.

Lots for sale, enquire J. R. Fetter. 22-3t.

FOR SALE.—Lot on West Sixth street. Inquire of Mrs. S. J. Knickerbocker, Port Allegany Pa. 22-4t.

All wise men ought to show some of their wisdom. "Learning is the beginning of wisdom." Buy of N. Seger thereby practicing wisdom.

FOR SALE.—A good farm in Plank Road Hollow. For particulars inquire of Mr. Jos. Kinsler, Emporium, Pa. 23-tf.

Yes, the latest in collars is necks. N. Seger don't keep all the necks but he keeps the "necks" thing to it—collars—12 p. m.

WANTED—A lady or gentleman of fair education to travel for a firm established 30 years. Salary, $1,072 per year and expenses, paid weekly. Address with stamp, H. W. KELLEY, Emporium, Pa. 24-2t.

The democratic county convention meets at the Court House next Tuesday to ratify the slate framed by the ring last winter. A number of gentlemen have been led to believe they are dead sure of the Treasurership nomination, but they will get their eyes open when the curtain is lifted from the machine slate. Of course it will be a surprise (?) to the ring but the deluded candidates may "ponder."

The Brown six-inch gun, nearing completion at the works of the Reading Iron Co., is designed to throw a projectile 30 miles. The gun is 26 feet long, weighs 20,000 pounds, and is made of wound wire. The shot it is to fire will have a service velocity of 3,000 feet a second and a maximum of 3,000. The inventor of the gun says he will build another of 10-inch bore with a range of 59 miles.

Blind masseuses have been so successful in London sanitariums that the "art of massage" is to be taught in New York schools for the blind. Their highly developed sense of touch gives them an aptitude for learning the work that leaves those blessed with sight far in the background. The blind folk are careful almost to a fault, and when a mistake is called to their attention it never is repeated.

Reports from the Discovery, which has been exploring the Antarctic regions, give interesting particulars as to the appetites which come to half-frozen men on long sledge expeditions. Hunger proved a dreadful nightmare, some of the men having horrible visions of tempting dishes. It is questionable if anything could compare in the way of hardships suffered to this form of modified starvation on such trips.

In Ceylon there is a tree called "Eve's apple tree," which is remarkable in that the orange fruit is beautiful to look upon, yet out of each fruit a piece appears to have been bitten. It is said that the simulation of a fruit which has been bitten into is perfect. For this reason and because the fruit is a deadly poison, the natives declare that it is the same tree which grew in the Garden of Eden, and it is a perpetual reminder of a disobedient act.

In the minds of the majority of Americans Russia is associated with tyranny of all sorts, yet there are said to be more points in common between the Russian and the English-speaking girls than the girls of any other nation. The Russian girl asserts herself, and no one in Russia thinks the less of a girl for her wish to learn or to lead an independent life. In all subjects she is an idealist, in this point being different from her English-speaking sisters.

In order to preserve the features of those who have died it is proposed by a Russian to embalm corpses by casting around them a solid mass of glass. This would be perfectly transparent, and as no air could get in the features would be preserved indefinitely. Of course, it is not possible to pour molten glass directly on the body, so it is first coated with a thing coating of silicate. This is allowed to harden and forms a protective coating. The body is then put in a mold and melted glass poured around it.

A species of acacia, which grows very abundantly in Nubia and the Soudan, is called the "whistling tree" by the natives. Its shoots are frequently distorted in shape by the agency of larvae of insects and swollen into a globular bladder from one to two inches in diameter. After the insect has emerged from a circular hole in the side of this swelling, the opening, played upon by the wind, becomes a musical instrument suggestive of a sweet-toned flute. The whistling tree is also found in the West Indies.

The culture and manufacture of basket willow have not attained in the United States the degree of perfection and profit that mark the industry in Europe. This is for several reasons, the most important being the relative compensation of labor and the failure of the American grower to adopt the most improved methods. The growing, harvesting, care and manufacture of willow require manual labor wholly unassisted by machinery. The cheap labor of Europe has grown willow and woven it into baskets at a profit impossible with us.

Baron Masanao Masudaira, a Japanese nobleman, has been traveling in Texas, which he declares to be a great country for rice. He regards Texas as almost equal to his native country and feels sure that rice can be raised there with good profit. The baron is of opinion that in a reasonably short time many Japanese of wealth and standing will become residents of the Lone Star State. He is anxious that his countrymen shall share in the general prosperity which prevails in this country, and advises them to settle in Texas.

President Roosevelt's Address

AT OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 27, 1904

In Response to the Committee Appointed to Notify Him of His Nomination for the Presidency.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee: I am deeply sensible of the high honor conferred upon me by the representatives of the republican party assembled in convention, and I accept the nomination for the presidency with solemn realization of the obligations I assume. I heartily approve the declaration of principles which the republican national convention has adopted, and at some future day I shall communicate to you, Mr. Chairman, more at length and in detail a formal written acceptance of the nomination.

Three years ago I became president because of the death of my lamented predecessor. I then stated that it was my purpose to carry out his principles and policies for the honor and the interest of the country. To the best of my ability I have kept the promise thus made. If next November my countrymen confirm at the polls the action of the convention you represent, I shall, under Providence, continue to work with an eye single to the welfare of our people.

A party is of worth only in so far as it promotes the national interest, and every official, high or low, can serve his party best by rendering to the people the best service of which he is capable. Effective government comes only as the result of the loyal cooperation of many different persons. The members of a legislative majority, the officers in the various departments of the administration, and the legislative and executive branches as towards each other, must work together with subordination of self to the common end of successful government. We who have been entrusted with power as public servants during the past seven years of administration and legislation now come before the people content to be judged by our record of achievement. In the years that have gone by we have made the deed square with the word; and if we are continued in power we shall unswervingly follow out the great lines of public policy which the republican party has already laid down; a public policy to which we are giving, and shall give, a united, and, therefore, an efficient support.

In all this we are more fortunate than our opponents, who now appeal for confidence on the ground, which some express and some seek to have confidentially understood, that if triumphant they may be trusted to prove false to every principle which in the last eight years they have laid down as vital, and to leave undisturbed those very acts of the administration because of which they ask that the administration itself be driven from power. Seemingly their present attitude as to their past record is that some of them were mistaken and others insincere. We make our appeal in a wholly different spirit. We are not constrained to keep silent on any vital question; we are divided on no vital question; our policy is continuous, and is the same for all sections and localities. There is nothing experimental about the government we ask the people to continue in power, for our performance in the past, our proved governmental efficiency, is a guarantee as to our promises for the future. Our opponents, either openly or secretly, according to their several temperaments, now ask the people to trust their present promises in consideration of the fact that they intend to treat their past promises as null and void. We know our own minds and we have kept of the same mind for a sufficient length of time to give to our policy coherence and sanity. In such a fundamental matter as the enforcement of the law we do not have to depend upon promises, but merely to ask that our record be taken as an earnest of what we shall continue to do. In dealing with the great organizations known as trusts, we do not have to explain why the laws were not enforced, but to point out that they actually have been enforced and that legislation has been enacted to increase the effectiveness of their enforcement. We do not have to propose to "turn the rascals out," for we have shown in every deed that whenever by diligent investigation a public official can be found who has betrayed his trust he will be punished to the full extent of the law without regard to whether he was appointed under a republican or a democratic administration. This is the efficient way to turn the rascals out and to keep them out, and it has the merit of sincerity. Moreover, the betrayals of trust in the last seven years have been insignificant in number when compared with the extent of the public service. Never has the administration of the government been on a cleaner and higher level; never has the public work of the nation been done more honestly and efficiently.

Assuredly it is unwise to change the policies which have worked so well and which are now working so well. Prosperity has come at home. The national honor and interest have been upheld abroad. We have placed the finances of the nation upon a sound gold basis. We have done this with the aid of many who were formerly our opponents, but who would neither openly support nor silently acquiesce in the heresy of unsound finance; and we have done it against the convinced and violent opposition of the mass of our present opponents who still refuse to recant the unsound opinions which for the moment they think it inexpedient to assert. We know what we mean when we speak of an honest and stable currency. We mean the same thing from year to year. We do not have to avoid a definite and conclusive committal on the most important issue which has recently been before the people, and which may at any time in the near future be before them again. Upon the principles which underlie this issue the convictions of half of our number do not clash with those of the other half. So long as the republican party is in power the gold standard is settled, not as a matter of temporary political expediency, not because of shifting conditions in the production of gold in certain mining centers, but in accordance with what we regard as the fundamental principles of national morality and wisdom.

Under the financial legislation which we have enacted there is now ample circulation for every business need; and every dollar of this circulation is worth a dollar in gold. We have reduced the interest-bearing debt and in still larger measure the interest on that debt. All of the war taxes imposed during the Spanish war have been removed with a view to relieve the people and to prevent the accumulation of an unnecessary surplus. The result is that hardly ever before have the expenditures and income of the government so closely corresponded. In the fiscal year that has just closed the excess of income over the ordinary expenditures was $9,000,000. This does not take account of the $50,000,000 expended out of the accumulated surplus for the purchase of the isthmian canal. It is an extraordinary proof of the sound financial condition of the nation that instead of following the usual course in such matters and throwing the burden upon posterity by an issue of bonds, we were able to make the payment outright and yet after it to have in the treasury a surplus of $161,000,000. Moreover, we were able to pay this $50,000,000 out of hand without causing the slightest disturbance to business conditions.

We have enacted a tariff law under which during the past few years the country has attained a height of material well-being never before reached. Wages are higher than ever before. That whenever the need arises there should be a readjustment of the tariff schedules is undoubted; but such changes can with safety be made only by those whose devotion to the principle of a protective tariff is beyond question; for otherwise the changes would amount not to readjustment, but to repeal. The readjustment when made must maintain and not destroy the protective principle. To the farmer, the merchant, the manufacturer this is vital; but perhaps no other man is so much interested as the wage-worker in the maintenance of our present economic system, both as regards the finances and the tariff. The standard of living of our wage-workers is higher than that of any other country, and it cannot so remain unless we have a protective tariff which shall always keep as a minimum a rate of duty sufficient to cover the difference between the labor cost here and abroad. Those who, like our opponents, "denounce protection as a robbery," thereby explicitly commit themselves to the proposition that if they were to revise the tariff no heed would be paid to the necessity of meeting this difference between the standards of living for wage-workers here and in other countries; and therefore on this point their antagonism to our position is fundamental. Here, again, we ask that their promises and ours be judged by what has been done in the immediate past. We ask that sober and sensible men compare the workings of the present tariff law, and the conditions which obtain under it, with the workings of the preceding tariff law of 1894 and the conditions which that tariff of 1894 helped to bring about.

We believe in reciprocity with foreign nations on the terms outlined in President McKinley's last speech, which urged the extension of our foreign markets by reciprocal agreements whenever they could be made without injury to American industry and labor. It is a singular fact that the only great reciprocity treaty recently adopted—that with Cuba—was finally opposed almost alone by the representatives of the very party which now states that it favors reciprocity. And here again we ask that the worth of our words be judged by comparing their deeds with ours. On this Cuban reciprocity treaty there were at the outset grave differences of opinion among ourselves; and the notable thing in the negotiation and ratification of the treaty, and in the legislation which carried it into effect, was the highly practical manner in which without sacrifice of principle these differences of opinion were reconciled. There was no rupture of a great party, but an excellent practical outcome, the result of the harmonious cooperation of two successive presidents and two successive congresses. This is an illustration of the governing capacity which entitles us to the confidence of the people not only in our purposes but in our practical ability to achieve those purposes. Judging by the history of the last 12 years, down to this very month, is there justification for believing that under similar circumstances and with similar initial differences of opinion, our opponents would have achieved any practical result?

We have already shown in actual fact that our policy is to do fair and equal justice to all men, paying no heed to whether a man is rich or poor; paying no heed to his race, his creed, or his birthplace.

We recognize the organization of capital and the organization of labor as natural outcomes of our industrial system. Each kind of organization is to be favored so long as it acts in a spirit of justice and of regard for the rights of others. Each is to be granted the full protection of the law, and each in turn is to be held to a strict obedience to the law; for no man is above it and no man below it. The humblest individual is to have his rights safeguarded as scrupulously as those of the strongest organization, for each is to receive justice, no more and no less. The problems with which we have to deal in our modern industrial and social life are manifold; but the spirit in which it is necessary to approach their solution is simply the spirit of honesty, of courage, and of common sense.

In inaugurating the great work of irrigation in the west the administration has been enabled by congress to take one of the longest strides ever taken under our government toward utilizing our vast national domain for the settler, the actual home-maker.

Ever since this continent was discovered the need of an isthmian canal to connect the Pacific and the Atlantic has been recognized; and ever since the birth of our nation such a canal has been planned. At last the dream has become a reality. The isthmian canal is now being built by the government of the United States. We conducted the negotiations for its construction with the nicest and most scrupulous honor, and in a spirit of the largest generosity toward those through whose territory it was to run. Every sinister effort which could be devised by the spirit of faction or the spirit of self-interest was made in order to defeat the treaty with Panama, and thereby prevent the consummation of this work. The construction of the canal is now an assured fact; but most certainly it is unwise to entrust the carrying out of so momentous a policy to those who have endeavored to defeat the whole undertaking.

Our foreign policy has been so conducted that, while not one of our just claims has been sacrificed, our relations with all foreign nations are now of the most peaceful kind; there is not a cloud on the horizon. The last cause of irritation between us and any other nation was removed by the settlement of the Alaskan boundary.

In the Caribbean sea we have made good our promises of independence to Cuba, and have proved our assertion that our mission in the island was one of justice and not of self-aggrandizement; and thereby no less than by our action in Venezuela and Panama we have shown that the Monroe doctrine is a living reality, designed for the hurt of no nation, but for the protection of civilization on the western continent and for the peace of the world. Our steady growth in power has gone hand in hand with a strengthening disposition to use this power with strict regard for the rights of others, and for the cause of international justice and good will.

We earnestly desire friendship with all the nations of the new and old worlds; and we endeavor to place our relations with them upon a basis of reciprocal advantage instead of hostility. We hold that the prosperity of each nation is an aid and not a hindrance to the prosperity of other nations. We seek international amity for the same reasons that make us believe in peace within our own borders; and we seek this peace, not because we are afraid or unready, but because we think that peace is right as well as advantageous.

American interests in the Pacific have rapidly grown. American enterprise has laid a cable across this, the greatest of oceans. We have proved in effective fashion that we wish the Chinese empire well and desire its integrity and independence.

Our foothold in the Philippines greatly strengthens our position in the competition for the trade of the east; but we are governing the Philippines in the interest of the Philippine people themselves. We have already given them a large share in their government, and our purpose is to increase this share as rapidly as they give evidence of increasing fitness for the task. The great majority of the officials of the islands, whether elective or appointive, are already native Filipinos. We are now providing for a legislative assembly. This is the first step to be taken in the future; and it would be eminently unwise to declare what our next step will be until this first step has been taken and the results are manifest. To have gone faster than we have already gone in giving the islanders a constantly increasing measure of self-government would have been disastrous. At the present moment to give political independence to the islands would result in the immediate loss of civil rights, personal liberty and public order, as regards the mass of the Filipinos, for the majority of the islanders have been given these great boons by us, and only keep them because we vigilantly safeguard and guarantee them. To withdraw our government from the islands at this time would mean to the average native the loss of his barely-won civil freedom. We have established in the islands a government by Americans assisted by Filipinos. We are steadily striving to transform this into self-government by the Filipinos assisted by Americans.

The principles which we uphold should appeal to our countrymen, in all portions of our country. Above all they should give us strength with the men and women who are the spiritual heirs of those who upheld the hands of Abraham Lincoln; for we are striving to do our work in the spirit with which Lincoln approached his. During the seven years that have just passed there is no duty, domestic or foreign, which we have shirked; no necessary risk which we have feared to undertake, or which we have not performed with reasonable efficiency. We have never pleaded impotence. We have never sought refuge in criticism and complaint instead of action. We face the future with our past and our present as guarantors of our promises; and we are content to stand or to fall by the record which we have made and are making.

STABILITY OF MOUNTAINS.

Scientific Measurements for the Information of Generations Yet Unborn.

At the recent gathering of the Association of Academies, Sir A. Geikie moved a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, says the London Telegraph, in favor of international cooperation in the efforts to obtain "Precise determination of levels in mountain chains subject to earthquakes, with the view of ascertaining whether such chains are stable, or are undergoing movements of deviation or depression." Another proposal aimed to secure measurements of the value of gravity, with the object, so far as geological questions are concerned, of throwing light on the internal distribution of masses in the earth and on the rigidity or isostasy of the terrestrial crust. These problems call for minute and rigorous observation. In this way it is believed to have been proved that the land about the city of New York has been subsiding since 1875 at the rate of about 1.45 feet (nearly 17½ inches) per century. Posterity 1,000 or 10,000 years hence will have a right to know not merely how high Etna or Vesuvius was in 1904, but what were the elevation and appearance of Beachy Head; how much the old rock has lost by waste of the sea at its foot, or by denuding rains on its summit and flanks; or how much it may have gained by uplifting forces. They will know these things in 2904, just as they will know how the stars and nebulae are distributed in our skies, and the knowledge will be very helpful to the future astronomers and geologists. In these matters photography, as the handmaid of research, can render easily and cheaply incomparable services.

Wanted a Chance.

Wealthy Man (to beggar)—No, I shall not assist you, and you needn't envy me my riches. With all my wealth I'm wretched, for I'm a martyr to indigestion.

Beggar—Well, guv'ner, I've 'eard a lot about indigestion, but I've never 'ad the chance of 'aving it. All I arsks is, guv'ner, gimme the chance!—Tit-Bits.

Wife's Dream Came True.

Warned by his wife to be careful while at work, because of a premonition that he would be injured, Charles Shott, of Sharon, Pa., a few hours after met with an accident that may prove fatal. The night before Mrs. Shott dreamed of impending danger. In the morning, when her husband started for the mill where he was employed she told him of her premonition. He was working on an elevation when he lost his balance and fell 40 feet.

Hearing Restored by Shock.

William Colee, of Pittsgrove, N. J., who has been very deaf, has had his hearing partially restored, the result of being stunned by lightning, and declares his hearing is almost as good as ever. During a thunderstorm the house of O. R. Alderman was struck by lightning and several members of the family were stunned. Mr. Coles, who is 91 years old and Mr. Alderman's father-in-law, felt a peculiar sensation in his ears at the time, and later discovered that his hearing had greatly improved.

Tar and Olive Oil.

A preparation which is healing and very efficacious is made from one teaspoonful of refined pine tar added to a pint of olive oil and both heated in a double boiler, after which a little perfume is added. This is placed on a linen or kid mask, as it will soil the pillow. It is rather a heroic treatment and must not be tried unless one can get the tar which has been refined. She who tries the other will have much to say which is not suitable for publication.—N. Y. Herald.

THE STOCK YARDS STRIKE.

PACKING HOUSE OWNERS WILL IGNORE LABOR UNIONS.

Packers Claim that the Backbone of the Strike Is Broken—Arrest of a Union Leader Leads to Rioting.

Chicago, July 30.—Unable to arrange a conference with representatives of the New York packers, Michael J. Donnelly, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen of America, has ordered a strike of all the members of his organization employed in New York by Schwarzschild & Sulzberger and the United Dressed Beef Co. The order, which was telegraphed to New York last night, does not go into effect until Sunday, as the men in the eastern packing plants do not report for work on Saturday.

The decision to extend the strike to the east was not taken until after Mr. Donnelly and his associates had spent the day in a fruitless effort to arrange a meeting with representatives of the eastern packers who came to Chicago to acquaint themselves with the situation here.

That the probabilities of a settlement by the opposing interests in Chicago are as remote as ever was plainly demonstrated when Henry C. Wallace, of Des Moines, Ia., and A. L. Ames, of Buckingham, Ia., called on the packers with a proposition from the strike leaders offering to concede the most important point in the controversy if the employers would agree to renew peace negotiations. Mr. Wallace and Mr. Ames were told by the packers that there was no possible chance for any further conciliatory move and that the packers were now in a position where they could ignore the labor unions, and that they proposed to do so.

Eighty colored men being transported from the stock yards in two cars on the Lake Shore road, were thrown into a panic by a furious attack by a mob of 200 throwing stones which demolished nearly every window in both cars.

Following the arrest of George Golden, chief of the Packing Teamsters' union, for picketing, riots became more frequent in the vicinity of the stock yards Friday afternoon. In one disturbance a mob captured a loaded meat wagon after it had left the stock yards, upset the wagon and threw the meat into the street. The most serious riot occurred in South Chicago, where five men were arrested for trying to prevent the delivery of meat. No one was seriously injured in any of the many disturbances.

More business was done Friday by the packers than at any time since the strike began. The statement was made last night by one of the packers that fully 13,000 men are now at work in the seven plants where the union men are on strike. This is nearly half as many men as went on strike.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.

They Are Being Held at Grosse Pointe Track at Detroit.

Detroit, July 28.—Rain threatened to seriously interfere with the third day's grand circuit racing at the Grosse Pointe track yesterday. Lou Dillon broke the track record of 2:05 by one second. John M. won the 2:09 pace. Sweet Marie took the 2:14 trot and Dr. Strong won the 2:10 trot. Eudora won the 2:25 pace in straight heats.

Detroit, July 29.—The Grosse Pointe track was in good condition yesterday for the fourth day's racing of the meeting of the Detroit Driving club. The Chamber of Commerce consolation stake for 2:24 class pacers and the 2:05 pace were the features. China Maid, which was well thought of by many for the Chamber of Commerce on Monday, was made favorite for the consolation selling race. Only three horses started and Angus Pointer won the race. Bob Hughes won the 2:17 pace and Frank Yoakum the 2:05 pace.

Detroit, July 30.—Two heats each were enough to decide the 2:10 pace for a purse of $1,500 and the Merchants and Manufacturers' consolation purse of $2,000 for 2:24 trotters at Grosse Pointe Friday. Jolly Bachelor had an easy win in the 2:24 trot. Angus Pointer, favorite, led all the way around in both heats of the 2:10 pace. Hall Fry had an easy win in the 2:17 trot.

The Tieup Is Complete.

Fall River, Mass., July 27.—The cotton mill strike in this city has tied up the mills so completely that by noon Tuesday not a wheel was moving in the 81 mills where a reduction of 12½ per cent. in wages was announced. Offers of assistance by the public are being received by the strike leaders. One offer of $5,000 was received from a local merchant. Another citizen placed at the disposal of the strikers an order for 1,000 loaves of bread. The strikers are looking to nature to provide much of their food during the strike, and large parties are digging clams and picking berries.

Rear Admiral Taylor Dies.

Sunbury, Ontario, July 27.—Rear Admiral H. G. Taylor, of the United States navy, who commanded the Indiana at the battle of Santiago, died at Copper Cliff general hospital last night, of peritonitis.

Tried to Swindle Mrs. Roosevelt.

Pittsburg, July 27.—An attempt to swindle Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the president, out of $50 is being investigated by the Pittsburg charity department. The woman, who tried to secure the money on the ground that she needed it to pay for a surgical operation on a child, will not be prosecuted, as it is not Mrs. Roosevelt's wish. Because of the respectability of the woman's family her name is withheld. She wrote two letters to Mrs. Roosevelt asking financial aid and the president's secretary asked the charity department to investigate

SCOLDING SET TO MUSIC.

And It Took the Wagnerian Brand to Do the Jawing Full Justice.

In one of the big One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street beer gardens a brass band was playing what purported to be a Wagnerian selection with positively deafening effect, relates the New York Times. The good-natured people around the tables had wisely abandoned all effort at conversation. Not so with one woman, a shrewish-looking person, who was leaning over a table shaking her finger at her husband and doing her best to make him hear the abuse that she was evidently hurling at him. Suddenly, with one grand blare, the music stopped, and the woman's voice, pitched in a veritable scream, was heard:

"You bald-headed, sour-faced idiot, I'll—"

Checked by her own strident tones she looked about her in consternation. Not so the husband. He was calloused to abuse. Picking up his stein he looked at his wife and growled:

"Shut up till the band starts again."

Proved Beyond a Doubt.

Middlesex, N. Y., July 25.—(Special)—That Rheumatism can be cured has been proved beyond a doubt by Mrs. Betsey A. Clawson, well known here. That Mrs. Clawson had Rheumatism and had it bad all her acquaintances know. They also know she is now cured. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. Mrs. Clawson tells the story of her cure as follows:

"I was an invalid for most five years caused by Inflammatory Rheumatism, helpless two-thirds of the time. The first year I could not do as much as a baby could do; then I rallied a little bit and then a relapse. Then a year ago the gout set in my hands and feet. I suffered untold agony and in August, 1903, when my husband died I could not ride to the grave.

"I only took two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and in two weeks I could wait on myself and saw my own wood. I dug my own potatoes and gathered my own garden last fall. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills put the Kidneys in shape to take all the uric acid out of the blood.

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N.Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered misery for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restful sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief but finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me. I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me.

"I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put aside all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MISS NELLIE HOLMES, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N. WAR NEWS

JAPS' DARING NIGHT ATTACK.

Tokio, July 28.—In a daring night attack against a Russian force estimated at five divisions with 100 guns, Gen. Oku succeeded in driving the enemy from their strong line of defense south of Tatchekiao.

The Japanese casualties before Tatchekiao were 800.

Tien Tsin, July 28.—Gen. Kuroki and Gen. Nogi are endeavoring to form a junction so as to cut off Gen. Kuropatkin's army between Liao Yang and Mukden.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, July 28.—Reports from the Russian lines agree that much fever and dysentery exists among the soldiers. It is the opinion that much sickness is caused from neglect of sanitary precautions in the Chinese towns occupied.

Cabling under date of July 26 the New Chwang correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The Japanese have not pursued the fleeting enemy, as they desire to cooperate with the first army in a decisive battle between Hai Cheng and Liao Yang which, even in the opinion of Russian officers, will result in a Russian defeat and will terminate the campaign."

Washington, July 28.—The state department has received a formal protest against the action of the Russian navy in seizing American goods and is prepared to act energetically. This protest relates to the seizure of an American cargo on board the Hamburg-American steamer Arabia.

SOMETHIN DOING ERE LONG.

St. Petersburg, July 29.—A telegram received from Gen. Kuropatkin yesterday announced that the position at the front has not changed. It is generally believed here that startling developments are imminent. All the war correspondents have been ordered to Harbin.

London, July 29.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has received assurances from the Russian government that full satisfaction will be given Great Britain in the matter of the sinking of the steamer Knight Commander.

In the house of commons yesterday Premier Balfour said the acute stage of the Red Sea incidents had passed and that the Russian volunteer fleet vessels would be withdrawn. He laid down the British view that no belligerent's warship could issue from the Black Sea and that the volunteer fleet vessels in issuing therefrom, if they took belligerent action, either had no right to issue or no right to take such action.

Tokio, July 29.—The Russians abandoned Tatchekiao at noon on July 25, retiring before the advancing army under Gen. Oku. They applied the torch to Tatchekiao and the surrounding towns and when the Japanese arrived they found flames still raging.

The Japanese pursuit extended beyond Tatchekiao and the Japanese left wing occupied Yinkow.

The Japanese loss at Tatchekiao is estimated at from 4,000 to 5,000.

The position held by the Russians last Sunday night south of Tatchekiao consisted of nine miles of trenches and fortifications.

CAN IT BE TRUE?

Shanghai, July 30.—A telegram received here from Wei-Hai-Wei confirms the telegrams received here from Che Foo to the effect that Port Arthur has been captured. The Wei-Hai-Wei telegram says also that the British fleet, which has been cruising, will return there to-day.

At Wei-Hai-Wei there is a British wireless telegraph station, and the British warships are equipped with this means of communication. It is possible that Wei-Hai-Wei has been in wireless communication with the fleet and that the information of the fall of Port Arthur was received in this manner.

London, July 30.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Co. from Wei-Hai-Wei, dated Friday, says:

"It is supposed here that Port Arthur has been captured, as the British fleet is returning here to-morrow."

Presumably this report is from the same source as the dispatch from Shanghai reporting a Wei-Hai-Wei rumor that Port Arthur has fallen. The only basis for the report known here is that when Russia no longer occupies Port Arthur the British, by the treaty, will evacuate Wei-Hai-Wei and the inference is that the British fleet is returning to Wei-Hai-Wei to remove the stores, etc., from that place.

Not much credence is attached to the Wei-Hai-Wei report, though similar rumors are flooding the continent.

Russia has filed a formal protest at the foreign office against British shipments of contraband to Japan.

Berlin, July 30.—Russia has agreed to fully indemnify German shippers and their consignees for any losses sustained by the seizures of German ships and the detention of the Prinz Heinrich's mail. An inquiry is now in progress to determine what claims shall be presented. Russia also agrees to restore and forward the contents of the two seized mail packages.

The Fine Stands.

St. Paul, Minn., July 30.—The state supreme court yesterday handed down a decision affirming the decision of the Jackson county district court, holding that a fine of $20,000 assessed against William Poole and William Kerr for having illegally in their possession 2,000 wild ducks was not excessive. The men were convicted in the Jackson county district court after the ducks had been found in their possession by the state game warden. They appealed on the ground that the fine of $10 apiece for the ducks was excessive.

TRADE BULLETIN.

Large Additions to the Army of Unemployed Persons are Noted—Many Labor Disturbances.

New York, July 30.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Confidence appears to be returning, despite a large addition to the army of unemployed. Labor disturbances are the most unfavorable factors in the industrial and commercial situation at the present time, curtailing the output of a few much needed products and reducing the demand for all commodities. Aside from this adverse influence the situation has improved, although progress is slow and frequently interrupted. Another week has put much wheat and cotton beyond danger and brought other crops nearer maturity. Dealers are providing for the future a little more freely, and in several important branches of industry orders come forward in greater bulk.

Owing to special conditions, the leading branches of manufacture do not make uniform progress, complications as to supplies of raw material making the current situation particularly puzzling at the textile mills and shoe shops. Earnings of the railways thus far reported for July are 2.7 per cent. less than last year.

Failures this week numbered 220 in the United States, against 190 last year, and 18 in Canada, compared with 19 a year ago.

BOGUS CIGAR LABELS.

A Chicago Judge Issues an Order Forbidding Their Sale and Use.

Chicago, July 30.—On petition of George J. Thompson, secretary of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America, Judge Honore has issed an order forbidding further sales of alleged spurious cigars and labels and stopping the distribution of cigars in boxes bearing the alleged worthless labels. Mr. Thompson filed with his plea for an injunction a copy of a decree declared to have been given in the federal courts at Washington, D. C., that I. D. Chamberlain, whose signature appears on the labels in question, is no longer a member in good standing in the Knights of Labor and that the branch of unionists Chamberlain heads has been outlawed by the true Knights of Labor.

Mr. Thompson declares that thousands of the labels he complains of have been printed in Chicago and have been sold to a number of non-union cigarmakers and dealers for ten cents a hundred. The use of this label, it is declared, would render useless the Cigarmakers' International union's annual expenditure of $50,000 in advertising union made goods.

Tidings from a Missing Judge.

New York, July 30.—A letter was received in this city Friday from ex-Judge Daniel McKoon, who mysteriously disappeared three weeks ago, stating that he was in El Paso, Tex. The letter, which was addressed to Judge McKoon's son, was rambling and incoherent and indicated that the writer's mind was affected. It was reported at the time of Judge McKoon's disappearance that he was held for ransom, but this view was not accepted by the police.

Can Use War Balloons Now.

Washington, July 30.—Yesterday marked the termination of the agreement entered into by the powers at The Hague peace conference, to which Russia and Japan were signatory, whereby the use of war balloons for throwing destructive explosives was prohibited for five years. Both Russia and Japan are now free to use the balloons to hurl dynamite into an enemy's camp and developments in this direction will be closely watched by American military strategists.

Seven Indictments in Slocum Case.

New York, July 30.—Capt. Van Schaick and Federal Steamboat Inspector Fleming and ex-Inspector Lundberg were indicted Friday by the federal grand jury in connection with the disaster to the General Slocum on June 15 when nearly 1,000 lives were lost. Indictments also were reported against President Barnaby, Secretary Atkinson and Treasurer Dexter, of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Co., and Capt. John Pease, the commodore of the company's fleet.

A Doubly Fatal Collision.

New Castle, Pa., July 30.—A northbound passenger train on the Erie & Pittsburg railroad was in collision head-on with an unattached locomotive near Sharon, Pa., Friday. Engineer James Robinson, of New Castle, was instantly killed, Fireman Charles McWilliams fatally injured and Fireman Jones and Conductor John Baptist slightly hurt. No passengers were injured. Both engines were badly damaged.

Entered Decrees of Foreclosure.

Portland, Me., July 30.—Judge Putnam in the United States circuit court yesterday entered a final decree of foreclosure and sale against building plants in different parts of the country controlled by the United States Shipbuilding Co., on bills in equity brought by the Mercantile Trust Company of New York, and the New York Security and Trust Co.

Converse to Succeed Taylor.

Washington, July 30.—Secretary Morton yesterday announced the appointment of Rear Admiral George A. Converse as chief of the bureau of navigation, navy department, to succeed the late Rear Admiral Taylor.

Seized by Venezuelan Soldiers.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, July 30.—Ambrose Carner, the former managing director of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Co., (who was recently appointed receiver of the company as a result of the suit brought by President Castro) accompanied by Attorney General Irabarren, arrived at Guanaco on Thursday on the Venezuelan gunboat Bolivar and, backed by Venezuelan soldiers, took possession of the properties of the company, including the asphalt lake, against the energetic protests of Capt. Cooley, the company's representative.

Two of the Democratic orators who have agreed to make speeches in the "doubtful states" are Senator Tillman and Representative John Sharp Williams. After the people have heard these very brilliant and caustic gentlemen the states will no longer be doubtful—they will become solidly Republican. What Judge Parker gained by closing his mouth his party will lose when these gentlemen open their mouths.

The labor question in its various phases is still very prominent, and a disturbing factor in many parts of the country. In Milwaukee Judge Ludwig has decided that contracts made by incorporated labor unions with manufacturers, prohibiting the employment of non-union workingmen, are void. In Connecticut Mr. Justice Hatch has decided that state law requiring journeymen horseshoers to be registered is unconstitutional. The rage for laws to control and hedge in labor will in time spend itself. The less the state meddles with honest occupations, the better for the people.

Politically speaking it is announced that there is to be a fight all along the line, whatever that may mean. The line of sure enough Republican states is a very long one, and includes almost everything except the so-called "solid South." Those who put Connecticut, Illinois, and Wisconsin among the "disputed states," reckon without their host. Already the Hearst newspapers are making fierce war upon August Belmont, and Bourke Cochran, as well as other prominent New York Democratic politicians, and if this sort of thing continues, there will be little danger of New York state going Democratic.

If there are any people who complain of hard times, they should reflect for a moment that much money is being spent for luxuries which many well-meaning folks think could be dispensed with. Take the little state of Connecticut, as a fair sample, with a population of less than one million of inhabitants. It has long had the name of being the land of "steady habits," yet the collector of internal revenue taxes, for the year ending June 30, 1905, publishes a statement showing that he collected for beer $907,317, for distilled spirits, $161,070 for cigars, $191,034, a total of $1,259,421 paid for taxes alone on these three articles. How much beer, "alcoholic food" and cigars was consumed is beyond estimating. It is not the fault of any form of government that such a state of things exists. When the individual lives as wisely and temperately as he should, then the times will rapidly improve.

Republican Promises Kept.

"We have made the deed square with the word," said President Roosevelt in accpting the nomination officially tendered him by Speaker Cannon.

This is another way of saying that the Republican party has kept its promise to the people.

Is not the country contented under Roosevelt.

The gold standard has been made a fixture, so that even Judge Parker, who twice supported and voted for the party and candidate of free silver, acknowledges it.

Business interests have been strictly guarded from all disturbing influences so far as a Republican Congress and a careful administration could do so.

Steps have been taken to put an end to criminal combinations designed to restrain trade.

In foreign affairs there has been a steady insistence for open ports in the Far East to commerce. American citizens have been protected in their rights. There have been no dangerous foreign entanglements. On the contrary, the administration's policy, while it has been positive, has made for peace. The result is that the American Nation is respected everywhere.

This being the case, how can the party of the opposition hope to carry the country under no better plea than that a change of administration is desirable?

Do the majority of the voters of the United States really think that it would be desirable to place Judge Parker in power at the White House and give him a Democratic House of Representatives at Washington?

We cannot believe so. There are times when it is best to leave well enough alone. We are doing well enough. If we would continue to prosper we had not better permit the Democrats to experiments. Heretofore their experiments have been disastrous.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a preventative of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precede suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nervine will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver and Kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by L. Taggart, Druggist.

The turn of a woman's head often turns a man's head.

How a Doctor Was Cured.

"For two years I was troubled with lumbago, or pain across my kidneys, the pain shooting down my thigh (especially on taking cold the pain would be terrible), a continual grinding, aching pain. One bottle of Thompson's Barosma, Backache, Live and Kidney Cure gave me immediate relief. I am now taking Barosma with great benefit as it reduces all inflamation of the stomach, liver and bladder, the great organs that regulate the whole system and purity the blood." Dr. A. S. Hubbard, 94 Brook St., Titusville, Pa. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

There is no sacrament without service.

Discovery Concerning Rheumatism.

It is now known positively that rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. The only possible way to get this poison away is to get this poison out of the blood is to treat the kidneys, as when they are diseased or not acting properly, the uric acid passes from the kidneys into the blood. Thompson's Barosma or Kidney Cure acts quickly, taking up the uric acid, curing the kidneys and restoring them to their normal functions. Thompson's Barosma is pleasant to take. For sale by R. C. Dodson.

need have no fear of the ordinary ailments and mishaps of mankind. Hamlins Wizard Oil is a safeguard for children, a comfort to parents, a boon to the old folks. It will pay to keep this old-time, reliable family medicine always on hand in case of need.

Starbuck, Minn., April 13, 1901.
I have been in bed for four weeks with a Sprained Back, caused by too heavy lifting. I have tried almost everything to cure it. Seeing what Hamlins Wizard Oil had done for others I tried a bottle and in two days I was able to work.
JOHN SMITH.

Santa Barbara, Cal.
My child fell from a high chair upon a hot stove and burned its forehead and side of face severely. It suffered intensely for three days, when we commenced using Hamlins Wizard Oil. The pain was relieved in twenty minutes and the burns healed in about five days. W. L. STEELE.

There is only one Wizard Oil—Hamlins—name blown in the bottle. Signature "Hamlin Bros." on wrapper. Take no substitute. 50c. and $1.00.

City of Contradictions.

Lassa is a city of magnificent buildings, where the streets are never repaired and, except for a slight cleaning in January and March of the Tibetan calendar, are dreadfully dirty. Everywhere people are laden with rich ornaments, but unwashed as Caverley's organ grinder. A vast Buddhist temple stands in the center of the city, and it is encircled by a street lined with shops and roadside venders. Both men and women are enthusiastic traders, and especially striking is the sight of Buddhist priests selling divers merchandise at roadside stalls, with the sleeves of their clerical robes rolled high up their arms.—London Globe.

UNDERTAKING

THE DUSKY NIGHT.

How better than the radiant, golden day
I love the dusky, still, mysterious night,
When Twilight, slipping down the starry way,
Unfolds her somber curtain 'gainst the night;
And troops of purple shadows softly steal
Through dewy haunts with velvet-shodden feet,
Armed with their silver lances that reveal
With luminous radiance their dim retreat.

I love the scented silence, when the flowers,
Sensuous and sweet, with heavy drooping heads,
Distilling perfume through the lonely hours,
Are sleeping in their dewy garden-beds;
And all the jeweled sky is bending low
Over the earth, its watch and ward to keep,
In azure depths its censers swing and glow,
Their golden lights reflected in the deep.

I love the soft, dark mystery that conceals
Night's hidden things within its shadowy way,
While whispering voices stealthily reveals
The tryst of gnomes that vanish ere the day.
I love the rune and rhythm of midnight winds
Harping weird anthems in their mystic flight—
Ah, yes, far better than the radiant day
I love the somber, dark, mysterious night.
—Elizabeth Clarke Hardy, in Woman's Home Companion.

In Gold Time

By ROBERTA LITTLEHALE

(Copyright, 1895, by the Short Story Publishing Co. All rights reserved.)

HE WAS straight, and grizzled, and keen of eye. He had worked, and fought, and gambled his way through the lawlessness and passion of the state's early life into the decency and uprighteousness of a successful contractor.

His name was Bill Bowen.

As a civil engineer, I came more or less in contact with him, and rejoiced in the largeness of his mental mold, as well as in the business sense of security he let me enjoy.

One summer's night we took a drive to a distant town on the San Joaquin river. We were to look at stone for bridge building, and the blistering heat of the day made us willing to lose our sleep for the more comfortable traveling by starlight.

The horses jogged lazily through the coarse, thick dust on the river's levee, and the insects from the grain fields and the frogs from the sloughs had things wholly to themselves until Bill suddenly interrupted.

"Mrs. Chase is pretty enough yet to understand why she sent two fellows to the devil, isn't she?"

"What are you talking about?" I answered.

"Oh," said Bill, pulling himself up, "I forgot you didn't struggle with the rest of us through those groggy days."

I knew Bill enough to let him relapse just so many minutes; then I said: "Judge Chase's wife is lovelier at 60 than most girls at 16, but I hadn't any idea she figured so romantically in the early days as to send anybody overboard."

"H'm," replied Bill, reflectively.

The horses traveled on without attention, and I waited in patience.

"You know what it was like," he began at last. "Men with guns from all over the union and gold the heaven we sweated for. Prayers, and court, and the gambling tables all running under one roof, and nary a woman's face showing up in the mass to give us courage. To be sure there were vixenish ribs o' Satan who robbed, and killed, and drank with the worst of us; but until '51 we'd never the woman for reverence. Then, by degrees, the lawyers and a stray merchant or two aired their families, but things wasn't dizzy till pretty Grace Blanchard got out with her father.

"Understand, she carried herself as she'd ought to; but, understand, there was men among us as was born and bred to live with blood. The mass of us had to take our satisfaction in looking at her; but for two the favor in old Blanchard's eye was easy reading, and it wasn't long seeing the course the straw took.

"New Emory was a long, lean, blonde fellow, with a blamed fine face, and a way that made friends of the toughest. They said he looked a swell when he called at the Blanchards', but I never saw him but like the rest of us—redshirted and overalls, and an angle to his pistols than made him a joy.

"George Stokes—'Shorty,' we called him—was a man with an answer that ripped like a knife, and a head that made success of everything, because it could work crooked as well as straight. He'd been on the bench, but he'd located a vein at Mariposa, and was overseeing up there in '52. Naturally, he lost opportunities, not being right on the spot, and the danger began.

"The Blanchard house was swelled larger than most of the cabins, and had two long windows that opened onto a porch. Things might never have been so bad but for those two lidless eyes in front.

"One fatal night Shorty Stokes rode into the settlement—but I'm getting ahead of affairs."

Bill tossed his cigar into the tules, and hurried the horse into effort as the interest of his reminiscence swept him on.

"The girl carried herself after the fashion of high-steppers, and neither fellow could swear where he stood. It was laughter and spirit for both of them, they said, and nip and tuck for the yielding. The pace was the sort that exhausts men, and Shorty's brain for lawyering cooked up a scheme for his rescue. He was for their going together some night before her, and, after a formal marriage proposal, each argue his claim and fitness for ten minutes by the clock, their honor at stake to stand by her decision.

"It got about afterwards that Emory wouldn't consent till he saw the devil to pay in Shorty's earnestness, and they swore with their fists in each other's to carry the thing through to the finish. The date and hour were arranged for the following Sunday night at eight, and they drank to it with gall in the cup.

"When the evening came the clock had already struck eight when Stokes reached the Blanchard house.

"The lights from the room fell over the porch, and from the shadow of the steps he saw the something that in all the world he could not bear to see—Emory crossing the room to take Grace Blanchard in his arms; Emory with passion paling his face and Grace Blanchard in the beauty of a disturbing humility.

"He cursed as he watched them cling to each other, and he cursed his way back to the saloons and his Mariposa mining.

"The next day he turned up again in the settlement, with liquor enough aboard to put a wheel in his head, and, after a losing fling at the tables, he started to find Emory.

"After a little ineffectual riding, he leaped from the back of his vicious-eyed piebald at the corner that bulged thickest with saloons, and stood close to the stirrup with his hand on his hip. Some one who noticed him said his face had the steely intensity of a razor edge.

"Then out of the crowd, unconscious, with the music of love in his heart, swung New Emory. His hat was pushed back on his fair hair, and he was whistling the overflow out of his veins.

"In one instant a bullet rang through the air, followed by another. Emory fell in his own blood, and a horseman was riding off wildly and safe through the shower of bullets that rained around him. Every man with a cayuse tore in pursuit, but they only brought back eight half-dead horses. Stokes had staked relay beasts at different points along the road, and was then safe in the chaparral canyons toward the north.

"The gambling dens choked up with the crowds; gold-dust was heaped on gold-dust for the reward of the cowardly hound. Murderers weren't rare then, but there was only one New Emory, remember.

"Four of us wouldn't drop the search. We let the blood-money men get out of the way, and then we worked as we'd toil for only our own.

"There was scarcely any scent to follow, for Stokes had bribed the greasers who furnished his horses; but we forced our way along on nothing. Day and night we rode with our eyes open, sometimes bullying and sometimes begging. It began to seem hopeless. The days were running into summer again.

"One afternoon, toward twilight, we rested on the crest of a mountain where the path took a sudden turn away from a 200-foot precipice.

"We were torn with the snapping branches of the greasewood, and full of extremest dirt and disgust. Suddenly we heard the rustle of a step on the fallen leaves. Under a live oak, not 30 yards away, on the very edge of the cliff, stood Shorty Stokes. He had not heard us, and he stood looking at the moon which hung a sickle in the hot sky. The evening star was showing.

"The four of us were like stones. He could go to Guinea before motion 'd have come to us. Then, simultaneously with our steps forward, he turned and looked into our faces.

"It was a moment to test the nerve of any man. He stood it as we were used to seeing him face all things.

"'I suppose I'm the man you're after,' he said.

"He said it with the dignity of a parson.

"In a second he had thrown down his pistols. He unsheathed his knives and dropped them to the ground.

"'Take me,' he said.

"Four of us looked into the unflinching clearness of his eyes. As we hesitated he spoke again.

"'Listen. It is not in excuse that I speak, nor in weakening. It is to tell you that those among you who are men will follow my steps under like circumstances.

"'Emory gave me his hand and his oath, in the manner of his frankness, to stand by an arranged agreement.

"'We were to meet at eight o'clock on that Sunday night. A—a beautifully good woman was to decide on our argument, which man she would marry. In riding to meet my engagement I happened on an accident. Within half a mile of the settlement, close onto time, my piebald went back on his haunches and the groan of a man came up from the roadside. I found an overloaded miner, hurt in the leg, and the hope in my own heart aroused my sympathy. I mounted the man on my beast and headed him back toward camp.

"'Walk as I never walked, I reached the meeting place three minutes late. Ah—God—out in the darkness I saw Emory taking advantage of the delay.

"'None of you is so much a cur as to let the life run in a man who, under his honor, couldn't yield a rival three minutes' grace.

"'But, with the camp against me, and Emory the friend of the sorriest, I couldn't face the music when the justice was done.

"'It is not mercy I ask. It is life hereafter. Come.'

"With a common impulse, we started forward, only to halt in a frozen horror as Stoke's broncho threw up his head in alarm to watch with us the backward somersaulting of his master's body over the precipice.

"Though there was but one verdict, even Chase said as we rode down over the mountain that night: 'Emory might have given Shorty a few minutes' grace.'"

Instead of insisting on reaching Tokio the Russians now consider themselves lucky to land safely in any small town that may be convenient.

THOMAS TAGGART, OF INDIANA,

ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Senator Gorman Refused—Woodson, of Kentucky, Was Elected Secretary at the Meeting in New York City.

New York, July 27.—The national democratic committee met here yesterday and unanimously elected Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, chairman.

Urey Woodson, of Kentucky, was elected secretary of the committee by a vote of 35 to 12, the selection subsequently being made unanimous.

Edwin Sefton, of the District of Columbia, was made assistant secretary.

John I. Martin, of Missouri, was elected sergeant-at-arms and Samuel Donelson, of Tennessee, assistant sergeant-at-arms.

All efforts to induce Senator Gorman to accept the chairmanship failed.

THOMAS TAGGART.

When the committee assembled Mr. Mack asked the members to meet today and take a special car to Esopus for the purpose of paying their respects to Judge Parker. Senator Bailey moved that it was the sense of the meeting that every member of the committee should pay this visit, and the motion was unanimously adopted.

Then came the important stage of the proceedinsg. There had been two or three whispered suggestions that the meeting adjourn after the temporary organization, in order to visit Judge Parker before the national chairman was elected. John W. Kern, who was in charge of the Taggart forces, at once told his friends that an adjournment would be fatal, as the postponement would give time for completing the combinations that were attempted.

John W. Kern placed Taggart in nomination, speaking briefly about his ability and capacity as a democratic leader. No one else was named and Taggart was declared the unanimous choice of the committee.

MILITARY RULE ENDED.

Gov. Peabody Places the Cripple Creek District in Charge of the Civil Authorities.

Denver, July 27.—Gov. Peabody yesterday issued a proclamation calling off military rule in Teller county and placing the Cripple Creek district in charge of the civil authorities.

This action was taken by the governor in face of opposition from many influential citizens of Cripple Creek who desire to prevent deported union miners from returning to the district. Before issuing his order, however, the governor received assurances from Sheriff Bell that his forces were able to control the situation.

Military rule was proclaimed in Teller county on June 8, in consequence of disorderly acts following the explosion at Independence, June 6, by which many non-union miners were killed and injured. Previous to that there had been a large force of soldiers on duty for many months in the Cripple Creek district, but before the explosion occurred these had all been withdrawn. No troops are now under arms anywhere in Colorado and good order prevails in all the mining camps.

The military expenses of the state during the past 18 months, due to strikes, are said to aggregate about $1,000,000.

LARCENY OF $800,000.

John J. Ryan, of St. Louis, Is Charged with Securing a Huge Sum by Means of a Get-Rich-Quick Scheme.

New York, July 27.—John J. Ryan, owner of race horses, was arrested at the Brighton Beach race track yesterday on a warrant charging the larceny of $800,000 by means of an alleged get-rich-quick scheme, of which it is alleged Ryan was the head. The warrant for Ryan's arrest was executed in St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 27.—New indictments have been found against John J. Ryan, operator of an alleged get-rich-quick race concern, and Lumpkin A. Gill, manager of the Arnold Co., by the grand jury, which has recently heard considerable additional evidence against the men in question.

There are seven new indictments. Four are against Ryan, three charging grand larceny and one charging embezzlement.

Ordered Gambling to Cease.

Chicago, July 27.—After indicting 24 bookmakers yesterday the grand jury ordered Sheriff Barrett to take immediate steps to stop all gambling at the race tracks in Cook county. Barrett promised the jurors that he would comply with their request. If the orders of the grand jury are carried out it will mean the absolute suppression of any bookmaking or gambling whatever at Harlem, Hawthorne and Worth race tracks. With the ban against betting enforced it is believed the tracks will be compelled to close their gates.

Marvelous Growth of Our Factories and Railroads

By WILLIAM C. BROWN.

Vice-President of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and New York Central Railways.

NO single agency has contributed more to the marvelous growth and development of our country, during the last half of the century just closed, than the great business of manufacturing.

From a position of comparative insignificance in 1850, the inspiration of American genius, energy, and enterprise has made this country the greatest manufacturing country of the earth, for in the year 1900 the value of the products of the manufactories of the United States exceeded thirteen billions of dollars, being greater than those of Great Britain, Germany and France combined.

In the great march of industrial progress of the nation, during the past three score years, the manufacturer and the railroad have kept shoulder to shoulder, each contributing much to the other, and both making contribution to national prosperity and greatness, without which the hands on the dial of progress and development of the country would be set back fully 50 years.

On the arch which spanned the entrance to the great Transportation building at the Columbian exposition was inscribed the stately and wonderfully prophet utterance of Macaulay in relation to improved means of transportation and communication:

"Of all inventions, the alphabet and the printing press alone excepted, those inventions which abridge distance have done most for the civilization of our species. Every improvement of the means of locomotion benefits mankind morally and intellectually, as well as materially, and not only facilitates the interchange of the various productions of nature and art, but tends to remove national and provincial antipathies and to bind together all the branches of the great human family."

Written years ago, the words of Macaulay foreshadow, but give scant conception, of the tremendous influence of the railroad and the telegraph upon every branch and avenue of human activity and endeavor.

On July 4, 1826, the first rail of the first railroad in the United States was laid.

It was the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and Hon. Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, the last surviving signer of that immortal document, drove the first spike in the impressive ceremony which marked the laying of that first rail of America's railway system.

It is safe to say that no other man has ever participated in two great focal events so momentous in importance, so full of far-reaching, tremendous significance for all mankind; not in our country alone, but to the uttermost parts of the earth and to the end of time.

The first was the birth cry of a new nation, "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." To its maintenance were pledged the lives, the fortunes, and the sacred honor of the immortal band of patriots who affixed their names to that sublime declaration of principles and of the colonies they represented, and in eight years of as heroic struggle as history records, that pledge was gloriously and triumphantly redeemed.

Save and except the birth of the Christ child in Bethlehem's manger, no event in all the ages has ever meant so much to humanity. It changed a nation of subjects into sovereigns and lighted on this western continent a beacon light of liberty which has been, and always will be, an example and an inspiration to the oppressed of every nation of the earth. It confirmed to our fathers, to us, and to our children's children unto remotest generations the precious heritage of liberty and equality, and made simple American citizenship a priceless birthright.

The later event, separated from the former by the span of 50 years, made possible the marvelous development and progress of the last half of the nineteenth century—development which exceeded that of any previous ten centuries in the history of the world—and which added an hundred-fold to the value of every American birthright.

From this small beginning, within the memory of many living today, the progress, the development of the railroad has been the story of the onward, resistless march of a mighty nation. The church, the schoolhouse, and the railroad have for three-quarters of a century formed the advance guard of settlement and civilization, and to-day the railroad mileage of the United States is over 200,000 miles, the passengers transported number 650,000,000 per annum, and 1,200,000,000 tons of freight are handled each year.

An army of 1,200,000 strong is employed directly, and almost countless other thousands are furnished employment in the mines, the forests, and the factories furnishing railroads with the millions of dollars' worth of material and equipment annually consumed. Even in this time of stupendous undertakings, the figures stagger comprehension.

What Is Independence?

By HON. CHARLES W. DEMPSTER.

Is it independence which prompts an able-bodied young man, with a good education and pretty, soft, white hands, to refuse to do manual labor, because it is "beneath him," while he borrows money from his friends or sends home to aged parents for help?

Is it independence which drives a refined and educated young woman to ask financial assistance of her gentlemen friends and acquaintances, and finally brings about her ruin, because, as she haughtily expresses it, she is "too independent to work in anybody's kitchen," until something better may present itself?

Alas! Is it true independence bars the road to success? Is it true that independence, so dear to the hearts of our noble forefathers, is driving thousands of our young Americans to ruin? Or, is independence, which is one of the cornerstones upon which our great government is founded, being misunderstood, misused and abused?

Young man! Young woman! It is time to call a halt! If you are indolent and will accept nothing but a "snap," where you are to receive more pay than you are worth to your employer, then say so, and at least be honest with yourself. Do not try to cover up your grievous fault by calling it independence. The world knows better. Remember, that to every true American, independence is more sacred than life itself, for it was purchased upon the battlefields by our fathers, and they paid their noble lives as the price. Therefore, when you call indolence by this sacred name, you insult the memory of the greatest and best men that ever lived.

Independence is the path to success; indolence to ruin!

LIZARDS CLOG MACHINERY.

A Thousand of Them, Supposedly Driven to Shelter by Storm, Take Refuge in a Factory.

David Mair, foreman of the cooling department at a cement factory at Union City, Mich., noticed that the feed in a clinker crusher had clogged. Upon investigation he found that several large lizards had become wedged in the hopper. After dislodging them the crusher was started, only to become clogged again. Mair, being greatly puzzled, determined to find where the reptiles were coming from, and upon opening an unused cooler was startled to find that it was half full of them. It is estimated that there were a thousand of them.

Another kiln was started and the red hot clinker was turned into the cooler. In several hours the reptiles were entirely destroyed.

How the lizards got into the cooler is a mystery, but it is supposed that they were driven to seek shelter there during the recent flood.

Canada's Attractions.

The Dominion Exhibition is one that attracts hundreds of thousands each year. This year it will be held in Winnipeg, Manitoba (Canada), and with the material assistance given it by the Dominion Government, it will be one of the most successful ever held. Besides the number of special attractions that will be offered, there will be brought together an exhibit of the Agricultural and Industrial resources of Canada such as is rarely attempted by any country. Visitors will be there in large numbers from the United States, owing to the low rates offered by railways, connecting with the Canadian roads. It is expected that Hon. Clifford Sefton, Minister of the Interior, will be there on the opening day to declare the exhibition open. A splendid opportunity will be afforded by this exhibition to meet friends. Hotel accommodations will be quite ample.

A Beautiful Young Society Woman's Letter.

ST. PAUL, MINN.
521 Wabasha St.
Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.,
Dear Sir:

"I took Peruna last summer when I was all run down, and had a headache and backache, and no ambition for anything. I now feel as well as I ever did in all my life, and all thanks is due to your excellent Peruna."—Bess F. Healy.

The symptoms of summer catarrh are quite unlike in different cases, but the most common ones are general lassitude, played-out, tired-out, used-up, run-down feelings, combined with more or less heavy, stupid, listless, mental condition. Relish for food and the ability to digest food seems to be lost.

Skin eruptions, sallow complexion, biliousness, coated tongue, fitful, irregular sleep, help to complete the picture which is so common at this season.

Peruna so exactly meets all these conditions that the demand is so great for this remedy at this season of the year that it is nearly impossible to supply it.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotics of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring the drug habit.

Thousands of women suffer from pelvic catarrh and catarrhal nervousness and don't know it. If you feel fagged out, begin at once taking Dr. Hartman's Peruna. It will relieve your catarrhal affliction and all your organs will be restored to health. Buy a bottle to-day, as it will immediately alleviate your case.

Paxtine Toilet Antiseptic

Paxtine is in powder form to dissolve in water—non-poisonous and far superior to liquid antiseptics containing alcohol which irritates inflamed surfaces, and have no cleansing properties. The contents of every box makes more Antiseptic Solution—lasts longer—goes further—has more uses in the family and does more good than any antiseptic preparation you can buy.

The formula of a noted Boston physician, and used with great success as a Vaginal Wash, for Leucorrhœa, Pelvic Catarrh, Nasal Catarrh, Sore Throat, Sore Eyes, Cuts, and all soreness of mucus membrane.

In local treatment of female ills Paxtine is invaluable. Used as a Vaginal Wash we challenge the world to produce its equal for thoroughness. It is a revelation in cleansing and healing power; it kills all germs which cause inflammation and discharges.

All leading druggists keep Paxtine; price, 50c. a box; if yours does not, send to us for it. Don't take a substitute—there is nothing like Paxtine.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to have the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkador, Iown, Argus.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, July 30th, 1904.

Editor Press:—

Nearly every young man of social position in Washington expects to serve two or three years in the National Guard of the District, and reach at least the grade of First Lieutenant. For the past week there has been much activity at the local armories making ready for the encampment at Harper's Ferry, which will continue from Aug. 1st to the 13th. The camp is near the junctiion of the Shenandoah and Potomac rivers, and there will be an excellent opportunity to learn the art of swimming. The departure of the boys for Virginia reminds your correspondent of a unique incident which he witnessed at the beginning of the war with Spain. Suddenly all the District militia was ordered to go into camp in the grounds of the Soldier's Home, some three miles north of this city. Their departure was witnessed by an immense crowd which assembled in the vicinity of the Center Market Armory. There was the usual weeping, kissing and handshaking, for some thought the boys would soon be on the battle field. They tramped up Seventy street to the grounds of the Home, only to find the gates locked and admittance refused. Finally the old soldier on guard let them inside. There were no preparations for sleeping on the sodded turf; no tents; no beds; nothing to eat. For one night the boys slept under a wet moon with the sky for a blanket, and mosquitoes for companions. The next day they came back to town, band playing and flags flying disgusted and disgruntled. Quite a number of resignations followed. They doubted the wisdom of going to war with officers capable of making war so cruel.

Interesting department news is made public each week, for however high the mercury climbs and wherever Cabinet Ministers may be taking an outing, the business of the executive branch of the government goes on forever. The Post Office department announces that the parcels post has been extended to China, and after August 1st, packages not exceeding $50 in value can be sent to far Cathay. The Navy Department will soon accept bids for $1,000,000 worth of armor plate. The Government is now engaged in building more than thirty war ships. Secretary Metcalf has issued a "railroad accident bulletin," which shows that for the quarter ending the 31st of last March, 919 persons were killed on the railroads of this country, while 12,444 were injured. This is at the rate of nearly 150 for each day, an awful and appalling record. The damage to railroad property for the same period was $2,256,477. Secretary Shaw estimates the deficit in the U. S., Treasury for July at $21,000,000. He remarks that a couple of years ago he said a very high standard of business would be necessary to enable the present revenue laws to yield enough to meet the large expenditures of the government. Like everything else business fluctuates; the lean years follow the fat. With the great demand Europe is sure to make for the coming Ameriecan crops of staples, a larger exportation will take place in the autumn, with a correspondingly increased importation of old world goods, and a larger revenue from imports.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps a Life Saved.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of Diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief." says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by L. Taggart.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. At all druggists. 49-ly.
